CITIZEN ENGAGEMENT OPPORTUNITIES

A Place to Love

The mutual love affair between people and place is a powerful force. Cities engaged in relationships with their citizens, and citizens emotionally engaged with their cities, create new possibilities within a community. When we love a city, we are committed to it, care for it, and give our best to it.

What makes citizens fall in love with their cities? Is it the people? Parks? Festivals? Perhaps, it is the simple ability to be active players in shaping the future of their home. These co-creators breathe life into their communities by creating non-traditional partnerships and building something mutually beneficial.

It is a symbiotic process: creative, innovative, and engaged citizens produce vibrant, lovable communities. By strengthening the emotional bonds to the community, the city will be rewarded with happier and more productive citizens. In other words, people want much more than a place to live; they want a place to love.
