He's a Keeper! City Purchases Art Pieces

I wish they'd do another one!

They are, on March 10!

[Insert your family here.]

Neither rain nor wind nor frigid temperatures could keep the Suwanee community from commemorating the opening of City Hall on March 29, 2009 with a Human Aerial Art Community Photo. If you were one of those souls who braved the elements, you and everyone you can pull together are cordially invited back for the 10th anniversary photo!

On Sunday, March 10 at 2 pm, the City of Suwanee will once again take a massive aerial community photo in the park, celebrating the tenth anniversary of the original S photo. Those interested can register at Suwanee.com. The first 2,000 registrants will receive a keepsake Suwanee cape to wear in the photo; superhero costumes are also encouraged!

"The original photo, as well as a list of all 1,044 participants, hangs proudly in City Hall," said City of Suwanee Events & Outreach Manager Amy Doherty. "We thought a tenth anniversary photo would be a great way to celebrate, as well as allow our newer citizens to leave their mark on the community as well."

"Now I'm a work of art!" commented one of the original participants.

Excuse Our

Awkwardness

Suwanee's Town Center just turned 15, and – like any teenager – we're undergoing a major growth spurt.

If you spend any time in Suwanee, you've probably noticed a bit of construction around Town Center. The good news: some of it is almost complete! The not-all-bad-really-kind-of-cool news: we're just getting started.

First envisioned in 2002, Town Center is the heart of Suwanee. A vibrant mixed-use area anchored by a 10-acre urban-style park, Town Center represents a bold and innovative response to two community goals: (1) to preserve open space and create more parks and, (2) to create an energetic and aesthetically appealing downtown and community gathering place.

The Town Center property was purchased in 2002 as an early acquisition of the community-supported park and open space initiative. When Town Center Park was first envisioned, the population of Suwanee was approximately 9,000 people – roughly half of where it stands currently.

One of the big ideas that emerged from the 2015 Downtown Master Plan was the expansion of Town Center. After gathering information from stakeholder meetings, citizen surveys, planning workshops, and a variety of other meetings and presentations, the city has boldly embarked on the expansion of its Town Center, with the first step being the addition of more mixed-use space.

Solis Town Center – a public-private partnership between the Suwanee Downtown Development Authority and developer Terwilliger-Pappas – features 12,000 square feet of retail and restaurant space, 71 for-sale townhouses, 240 luxury apartments, and a four-story parking deck. The $46 million mixed-use project is nearing completion, with the first residents having moved in on November 1. Additionally, Suwanee's Downtown Development Authority is working with potential restaurant operators and other establishments to fill the retail space.

The addition essentially doubles Suwanee's downtown area, which boasts over 150,000 square feet of commercial and office space, as well as 560 residential units within an 80-acre area.

"Suwanee's downtown is a wonderful mix of restaurants, retail, offices, and recreational greenspace," commented Suwanee Downtown Development Manager Adam Edge. "Town Center is not just another new large mixed-use development; it is a key part of our beloved and well-established downtown. Solis Town Center enhances the restaurant and retail mix, which will only add to our already vibrant downtown experience."

Other Town Center-related projects in the mix include:

- Heartis Senior Living, which will feature 175 independent living, memory care, and assisted living units on ten acres.
- $11 million in enhancements on Buford Highway, including bike lanes, a greenway, 10-foot wide sidewalks, a roundabout at Russell Street, and benches along the road to promote walkability.
- Expanding Town Center Park into the 25 acres behind the Suwanee library and Playtown Suwanee. The project will include a terrace plaza, bridge and water feature, public art, sand volleyball courts, and 15 acres of woodlands traversed by a greenway.

"We have a proven track record with Town Center of master planning our vision and then working with the private sector to implement that vision," said Suwanee City Manager Marty Allen. "We're confident that this project will add depth and energy that not only physically extends Town Center, but also further enhance the Town Center experience."

City of Suwanee Recognized for Successful Planning and Implementation with Renewed PlanFirst Designation

The Georgia Department of Community Affairs presented the City of Suwanee with a renewed PlanFirst designation at the November City Council meeting. The commendation is awarded to communities that demonstrate an established pattern of successfully implementing their comprehensive plan.

Suwanee was among the first group of ten communities to obtain the PlanFirst designation in 2015. Currently there are 24 designated communities which have been recognized for excellence in community planning; Suwanee and Braselton are the only cities in Gwinnett County that have earned this designation.

“Good planning sets the stage for economic growth,” said Christopher Nunn, Commissioner of the Georgia Department of Community Affairs. “Our PlanFirst communities serve as statewide models for others in how to actively and strategically implement a vision for the future.”

PlanFirst communities are required to address four primary program criteria focused on having a proven record of plan implementation success: goals, leadership, community participation, and implementation. The designation is for three years and enables these communities to take advantage of various incentives that include public recognition, eligibility for specified grant opportunities, and certain reduced interest loans. CITY OF SUWANEE'S #LIPSYNCCHALLENGE VIDEO AND ANNUAL REPORT CONTINUE TO RACK UP THE HARDWARE

The City of Suwanee Police Department's #LipSyncChallenge video has recently been honored with multiple international awards. The video – which was produced by City of Suwanee marketing staff and starred the Suwanee Police – won a Silver W3 Award in the category of Use of Interactive Video. Receiving over 5,000 entries from across the globe, the W3 Awards honor outstanding websites, web marketing, web video, mobile sites/apps and social content created by some of the best interactive agencies, designers, and creators worldwide.

“The creativity and quality of this season's entries surpassed even our grandest expectations. As the digital landscape continues to expand and break new ground, our winners are a testament to the creative capability that makes the internet a true work of art,” said Derek Howard, Director of the Academy of Interactive and Visual Arts, which judges the W3 Awards.

The #LipSyncChallenge video also won two Silver Davey Awards in the categories of Best Use of Interactive Video and Best Art Direction for Online Film/Video.

Named for the hero of David and Goliath, “Creative Davids” derive their strength from big ideas rather than big budgets. With 3,000 entries from around the world, the Davey Awards honor the finest creative work from the best small shops, firms, and companies worldwide.

The City of Suwanee 2016 Annual Report was also a big winner at the Davey Awards, bringing home three statuettes in the categories of Copywriting for Design/Print, Art Direction/Graphic Design for Design/Print, and Annual Report for Design/Print.

Both the #LipSyncChallenge video and Annual Report can be viewed at Suwanee.com.

TIME TO CELERY-BRATE!

Food Trucks and Farmers Markets Set to Return to Town Center

The City of Suwanee is in search of purveyors of fine fruits and vegetables, herbs, flowers, creators of jams and soaps, and others to participate in the 16th season of the city's Farmers Market. The regular Suwanee Farmers Market will be open from 8 am-noon Saturdays, May 11 through September 28, at Town Center Park. The Winter Farmers Market is the second Saturday of the month from 9-11 am, October through April.

Food Truck Fridays also return to Town Center on May 3, June 7, August 2, and September 6, with each month bringing great food and music from 5:30 pm to 9:30 pm. The city accepts up to ten food trucks per event, and we're craving new and exciting options this year!

Applications for both the Farmers Market and Food Truck Fridays are due on March 18, and can be found at Suwanee.com.

SOME OF THE CITY'S FAVORITE ART PIECES WILL BE THERE FOR YOU, PROVIDED THEY DON'T TAKE A GREAT FALL Hint, hint.

SculpTour has brought a total of 79 temporary sculptures to a walkable one-mile area of downtown Suwanee.

It's time to bid a fond farewell to the 2017-19 SculpTour exhibit. Most of the sculptures that make up the fifth exhibit will be leaving in March, making way for the sixth exhibit installation in late spring. But the good news is - not everyone is leaving! The Suwanee Public Arts Commission, using donated funds, has purchased fan favorites Mr. Eggwards by Kimber Fiebiger and Friends by Nnamdi Okonkwo to add to the city's permanent collection.

The most dapper of all humpties, Mr. Eggwards is ready for any social engagement that passes his way, which is helpful, since he sits on a wall (naturally) in view of the Town Center Stage. Fabricated from bronze using the lost wax process, this sculpture stands (sits) just under four feet tall and weighs 200 pounds.

Friends is a symbolic statement in bronze of the spirit and essence of friendship. Originally part of the 2015-2017 exhibit, Okonkwo's sculpture of three women was so popular that the Public Art Commission decided to keep it for another round. The use of large forms and shapes conveys a larger-than-life, monumental presence and a nobility of soul. Fabricated from bronze, this sculpture stands more than 5 1/2 feet tall, weighs 1,300 pounds, and can be found on the Charleston Market Street side of City Hall.

"I feel really grateful that Friends will now have a permanent home in Suwanee!" said artist Okonkwo, who will be the guest of honor and speaker at the North Gwinnett

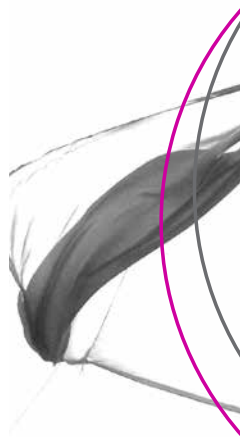

Arts Association's March 21 meeting. "All I have is love for the city and for everyone who helped make the addition of Friends to your sculpture collection a reality!"

In addition to Friends and Mr. Eggwards, another piece from the exhibit is making a permanent move to our city. Senior living facility Heartis Suwanee purchased Dancer XX by Jack Howard-Potter for their new facility on Suwanee Dam Road as part of the city's program to encourage developers to include public art as part of new projects by donating one percent of construction costs to public art on their site or elsewhere in the city.

Dancer XX is a monumental figure standing on one leg with arms raised to represent a body in motion - the moment that a dancer is at the peak of a jump, the weightless split second before the body succumbs to gravity. Fabricated from galvanized and powder-coated steel and fabric, as well as the hub assembly of a Ford Explorer, the sculpture stands 20 feet tall and weighs approximately 2,700 pounds.

SculpTour has brought a total of 79 temporary sculptures to a walkable one-mile area of downtown Suwanee during its past five installations, as well as 20 permanent pieces owned by the City and artworks that have been purchased privately.

LET SUWANEE PUT YOUR ART ON A LIMB!

The City of Suwanee is seeking proposals and samples from artists willing to go out on a limb for the city's finders-keepers art-in-nature program.

A beloved Suwanee tradition, Art on a Limb is an award-winning, month-long program designed to celebrate and bring attention to the arts, as well as the natural beauty of the Suwanee parks and greenways. Since 2005, the city has hidden two pieces of artwork – created especially for the City of Suwanee – daily throughout the month of May within city parks and along the greenway; those who find the trail treasures get to keep them.

Past Art on a Limb pieces have included fairy doors, clay birds and orbs, small paintings on canvas, pieces of the city's old water tower, magnets, gourds painted to look like birds, the Suwanee S shaped from metal, and pottery pieces. This year, we're looking for something new, unique, and fun!

Artistic proposals for this year's program will be accepted through February 22. Guidelines and an application are available at suwanee.com.

SPEND ST. PATRICK'S DAY EVE IN TOWN CENTER PARK!

The luck of the Irish is descending upon Suwanee on St. Patrick's Day weekend, with not one but two fantastic events! Ever seen a leprechaun win a 5K race? Put on your best running kilt and join us in Town Center Park for the annual Kiwanis Shamrock 5K on Saturday, March 16 at 8 am. Participants will receive a performance tech t-shirt with "Irish flair" and prizes will be given for the most festive St. Patrick's Day attire. For more information or to register, visit RunSignUp.com.

After you've worked up a good sweat, cool down with one of the biggest and best craft beer festivals in the Southeast! The award-winning Suwanee American Craft Beer Festival returns for its ninth year on Saturday, March 16 from 12-5 pm. Enjoy samples of more than 350 craft beers from breweries all over America. Those feeling extra festive can enter the St. Patrick's Day contests for best outfit, best beard, best kilt, and the best dressed couple for a chance to win fierce* prizes from event sponsors.

"The event lineup features dozens of new breweries and even offers plenty of options for the non-hop heads in the crowd as well, with unlimited samples of wine, meads, ciders, hard seltzers, bourbon, and more," said Event Marketing Associate Lizzy Kidney.

Not a beer drinker, but still want to experience the festival? Discounted designated driver tickets can be purchased in conjunction with a general admission ticket; DD tickets include entry to the festival without beer tasting. We're also looking for 200 event volunteers! For more information or to purchase tickets, visit SuwaneeBeerFest.com.

CITY NAMES ITS 2019 SUWANEY YOUTH LEADERS CLASS

The City of Suwanee recently named the members of its sixth Suwanee Youth Leaders (SYL) class. These students were chosen based on a combination of the strength of application, feedback from a student-led selection committee comprised of recent SYL graduates, recommendations from teachers and school administrators, academic performance, and extracurricular resume.

SYL is an eight-month leadership program for high school sophomores and juniors who live within the North Gwinnett, Peachtree Ridge, or Collins Hills cluster districts. Participants gain genuine exposure to local initiatives and community and civic leaders, while also allowing the city to engage with youth providing a strong voice and active role in planning the city's success. The SYL program was honored with a CREATE Community Award from the Atlanta Regional Commission in the category of Educational Excellence.

"While it's an honor to win awards, it's an even greater reward to see kids becoming invested in their community through this initiative," said Suwanee Downtown Business & Development Manager Adam Edge, a co-leader of the program. "The Suwanee Youth Leaders program allows the city to make a genuine commitment to our youth. We now have a group of young people who have more knowledge about how local government operates and the work that goes into building community."

Welcome - TO - SUWANEE

City Hall's planning department welcomed Cassandra Jackson as its new administrative secretary. Cassandra previously served as a substitute teacher, an insurance claims specialist, and a background actress in locally filmed movies and television shows. Originally from Birmingham, Cassandra enjoys line and ballroom dancing in her free time.

Bill Stinehart joins the city as environmental services manager. Bill has quite a resume of previous experience in the field, including serving as an operations manager for landscape companies and a principal at Horticultural Consultants. Bill and his family live in Dawsonville, where Bill has lived his entire life! He enjoys gardening (even away from work!), cooking, and writing children's books.

The city's new human resources manager, Candice Warlick, comes to us from NCCPA and Embraco, where she worked in the human resources departments. Candice loves being with her friends and family (including her niece and two nephews), attending concerts, and traveling.

The City of Suwanee Police Department gained new communications officer Justin Koerper. Born and raised in Norcross, Justin enjoys playing games, fishing, and eating.

Thank You!

Local scout Ashlee Tam of Girl Scout Troop 2440 recently completed re-potting the City Hall lobby and council room with new plants as her Silver Award project. The venture involved soil, plant, pot, and fertilizer research, as well as plant selection and the actual planting.
